

Grey Whale and Complexity Relationship in Flores Island Habitat

Benthic Topographic Complexity displays the sea bottom surface area and slope. Moreover, it is related to the seafloor bathymetry and the species richness in the selected area. The mentioned characteristics influence the appearance of Grey Whale at the coastline of Flores Island.

